6.1. Policy Statement

Racing Queensland is committed to the care and welfare of animals and will work with the Queensland Racing Integrity Commission and racing clubs to ensure that the health, safety and wellbeing of racing animals is maintained to the highest standard. This policy has been developed in conjunction with Racing Queensland’s obligations under the Racing Act 2002 as it relates to thoroughbreds, standardbreds and greyhounds, and more broadly, the Animal Care and Protection Act 2001.

The Animal Care and Protection Act 2001 promotes the responsible care and use of animals and imposes a legal duty of care on people in charge of animals to ensure that the welfare of the animal is protected and maintained. It establishes the benchmark for the protection of animals against cruelty.

Racing Queensland as a Principal Racing Authority and working in conjunction with the Commission will develop and implement the Rules of Racing, to ensure a precise legal framework for the conduct of licensed and registered participants in racing, training and breeding activities. RQ will achieve this through an active contribution to the formulation of national rules of racing and where required, enhance and support the conduct of racing through the advancement and implementation of local rules.

Furthermore, in conjunction and in support of the national and local rules of racing, RQ may devise and implement a series of standards, protocols and procedures to ensure that the conduct of breeding, racing and training activities in Queensland complies with the rules of racing and adheres to the highest possible standards of animal care.

The systems of governing and managing animal care in Queensland are managed by RQ through a series of industry documents which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- The Rules for Racing in Queensland (one for each Code)
- RQ Venue Minimum Standards (one for each Code).
